

US-RSPE MEMBERS REPRESENT THE FULL VALUE CHAIN

Growers
Producers

Retailers Food Service

Integrators
Processors

Civil Society
NGOs

Allied Industries

Access a road map for improving your sustainability.

US-RSPE has developed a voluntary, comprehensive sustainability reporting structure created specifically for the chicken, turkey and egg value chains. This "Framework" equips your organization with a structure to better communicate with your stakeholders about the overall sustainability of U.S. poultry products and create a clearer picture of how these products are produced.

Learn from your colleagues, competition and stakeholders.

US-RSPE has several committees: Framework, Communications, Continuous Improvement, and Membership Recruitment and Engagement. All three of these committees provide valuable networking and collaboration opportunities in a working group setting and give you access to assets you can take back to your organization for use.

Connect to the global industry on poultry welfare.

Animal health and well-being are important components of sustainability, and US-RSPE makes it easy for you to plug in by offering a joint membership structure with the International Poultry Welfare Alliance. Your organization can be directly connected to what is happening globally and best position your business for changes with access to the world's leading experts in welfare to support you.

Learn more:
poultrywelfare.org

MEMBER BENEFITS

- ✓ Bring visibility to your organization as a leader in sustainability in the U.S. and beyond.
- ✓ Provide leadership and input in your area of the value chain to inform industry-wide programs and outreach.
- ✓ Influence the dialogue and treatment of sustainability in poultry and eggs proactively instead of reactively by engaging directly with your stakeholders.
- ✓ Access member-only education, training and other resources to help you develop a road map for your sustainability program.

US-RSPE
U.S. ROUNDTABLE FOR SUSTAINABLE POULTRY & EGGS

OUR MEMBERS INCLUDE

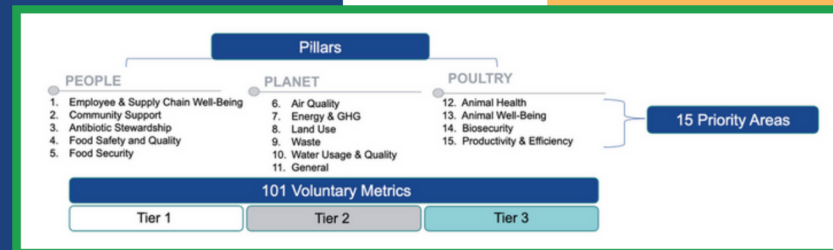

LEADERS IN SUSTAINABILITY

Dedicated to:

OUR POULTRY
OUR PLANET
ITS PEOPLE

The Roundtable Sustainability Framework

The US-RSPE Sustainability Framework is the first-ever multi-stakeholder sustainability reporting framework for the entire U.S. supply chains for chicken, turkey, and eggs from producer to the final customer.

Scan the code to learn more.

US-RSPE IS A MULTI-STAKEHOLDER GROUP

developed to advance, support and communicate continuous improvement in poultry and egg sustainability through leadership, innovation and full supply chain engagement.

90+

MEMBER ORGANIZATIONS

From genetics to the grocery store, US-RSPE creates a space of open discussion and collaboration that yields an understandable, implementable and effective road map to sustainability.

OUR MEMBERS INCLUDE

LEVEL UP YOUR SUSTAINABILITY PROGRAM

Even through constant and rapid change, poultry and egg producers in the U.S. have proven their commitment to serve their customers and provide a stable food supply. Join the multi-stakeholder group driven and built to find implementable solutions for you.

We do the work to access diverse perspectives and reveal the shared values and common understandings to create a road map for your business and our supply chain to continuously improve our sustainability.

We believe sustainability success starts with measurement and is improved by investing in work that ensures a bright future for our poultry, our planet and its people.

Join US-RSPE to engage with your value chain and get the support you need to level up your sustainability program.

CONTACT US TO LEARN MORE

Multiple membership levels are available to best fit your organization — all sizes are welcome!

U.S. Roundtable for Sustainable Poultry & Eggs

1530 Cooledge Road
Tucker, GA 30084 USA

Visit our website:
us-rspe.org

Contact us:

Ryan Bennett
US-RSPE Executive Director
rbennett@poultryegg.org
(433) 745-2378

OUR MEMBERS INCLUDE

River Ridge Farm

Deerfield Farms

Dr. Katy Tarrant

Dr. Suzanne Millman

Dr. Karen Schween-Lardner

This document was compiled by members and staff of US-RSPE for your reference and not intended to represent the best or only approach to any particular issue or practices. US-RSPE makes no guarantee with regard to the accuracy, completeness or suitability of this document, and they assume no responsibility or liability in connection with the use or misuse of any material. Original copies printed on FSC-certified paper from responsible sources.

U.S. ROUNDTABLE FOR SUSTAINABLE POULTRY & EGGS

Real Sustainability Solutions

Join the multi-stakeholder organization helping drive improvement in the U.S. poultry and egg value chain.

MEMBERSHIP

JOIN US-RSPE TODAY!

us-rspe.org

OUR MEMBERS INCLUDE

